

Carolyn Roddy

Carolyn Tatum Roddy, the SIA Director of Regulatory Affairs, is a telecommunications lawyer with concentrated experience in both regulatory and legislative matters. She served as a regulatory attorney in the wireline, wireless and enforcement divisions at the FCC, represented Sprint Communications LP before PSCs throughout the South during implementation of the 1996 Telecommunications Act, and worked in private practice for a number of years representing telecommunications clients before municipal, state and federal regulatory bodies. She also served as an Attorney responsible for wireline, wireless, public safety and FCC administrative matters at the agency Office of Legislative Affairs after serving as chief legislative aide to Congressman Newt Gingrich.