KYMETA CORPORATION JOINS THE SATELLITE INDUSTRY ASSOCIATION

Washington, D.C., March 3, 2015 - The Satellite Industry Association (SIA) today announced that Kymeta Corporation, a leading developer of metamaterials-based satellite antenna technology, has become SIA's newest member. SIA is a full-service trade association that represents commercial satellite companies as the unified voice of the U.S. satellite industry on policy, regulatory, and legislative issues affecting the satellite business.

“SIA is very pleased to welcome Kymeta,” said Tom Stroup, SIA's President. “The Company's leading edge advances in satellite broadband antenna technology make Kymeta an ideal new member of our Association. Their addition further augments SIA's membership of innovative next-generation technology leaders, while enhancing the Association's representation of the broader U.S. satellite industry.”

“As SIA members, we at Kymeta look forward to lending our voice to critical policy issues that impact the Satellite Industry,” said Bill Marks, Executive Vice President of Business Development and Marketing at Kymeta Corporation. “Operating in the private sector, and in the government sector with Kymeta Government Services, we recognize the importance of SIA's excellent work and are very pleased to join other industry leaders as a new member.”

About Kymeta Corporation

Kymeta Corporation is commercializing a new, innovative software-enabled metamaterials-based electronic beamforming antenna for integration into satellite communication terminals and solutions. Kymeta has been named by CNBC for two consecutive years as one of the 50 most disruptive companies as part of their annual list of the world's most innovative technology companies. Kymeta was selected by Future in Review as a 2014 FiRe Starter company. Boats. Planes. Cars. If it moves, Kymeta is the antenna solution that will keep it connected. Anywhere. The company is based in Redmond, Washington and operates on a worldwide basis. For more information, visit www.kymetacorp.com.
